Introduction

The Genius Ladder is Whole Brain Teaching's fast paced, K-12 game for developing students' speaking and writing skills. Play the game for about 15 minutes every day and your kids will learn to creatively use nouns, verbs, adjectives, and prepositions while writing complex topic sentences and tightly focused paragraphs!

The game is arranged in three levels: Beginner (slides 16-285); Intermediate (slides 286-421); and Advanced (422-654).

Directions printed in red follow.

Blah Sentence

Directions: a sample slide

Article noun verb.

A fireman burped.

Divide your class into pairs of students; you can pair with the extra student or have her work by herself.

Blah Sentence

Directions

Article noun verb.

A fireman burped.

Show the first slide in the sequence,
the Blah Sentence.

Blah Sentence

Students read this slide with “feeling.”
Emphasize they should have “focused fun” not “wacky fun.”

Blah Sentence

Directions

Article noun verb.

A fireman verb.

Student pairs take turns orally filling in the verb blank as many times as possible for a time limit (one minute, for example).

Blah Sentence

Article noun verb.

A noun burped.

Student pairs take turns filling in the noun blank as many times as possible for a time limit.

Spicy Sentence

Directions

Article adjective noun verb.

A sneaky fireman burped.

Show this example. Encourage students to find creative adjectives; you especially like two and three syllable adjectives ... (a syllable lesson!)

Spicy Sentence

Directions

Article adjective noun verb.

A adjective fireman burped.

Student pairs take turns filling in the adjective blank as many times as possible for a time limit.

Extender Sentence

Directions

Article adjective noun verb extender.

A sneaky fireman burped after eating a dozen doughnuts he'd stolen from the flaming bakery.

Show this example; discuss the concept of an “extender” ... a phrase that adds important information.

Extender Sentence

Directions

Article adjective noun verb extender.

A sneaky fireman burped
extender.

As before, students take turns inventing extenders; emphasize creative fun.

Genius Sentence

Article adjective noun verb extender.

(Adders)

target word

A sneaky fireman burped after eating a dozen doughnuts he'd stolen from the flaming bakery.

Adder. Adder.

Now, students are ready to write. Point out that both adders (detail sentences) must be about the target word, and thus support the key noun in the topic sentence.

Give students a time limit for writing, ten minutes for example. They keep writing as many Genius Paragraphs as possible in the time frame. Thus, you won't have students quickly writing a few sentences and saying, "I'm done!" Do not show the paragraph example on the next page, until all students are finished writing ... you don't want them imitating the example but instead developing their own ideas.

Genius Paragraph

Article adjective noun verb extender.

(Adders)
